

Cut Costs and Increase Revenue with Help from Hippocratic Solutions' Billing Experts

By Peter Koukounas

Peter Koukounas, the owner of Hippocratic Solutions, has been committed to helping podiatrists improve the productivity and profitability of their practices since 2008. He founded the company after seeing a need for accurate, detailed, efficient podiatry billing and coding.

This dedicated business owner ensures that his team of expert medical billers and coders possess the latest technologies, training, and resources necessary to provide try practice to achieve real, scalable growth. That's why the company includes practice management consulting in the fee charged for billing services. With this offering, Hippocratic Solutions meets with the practice owner, partners, or office manager in order to review internal finances. This allows podiatrists to learn new methods of reducing expenses, eliminating inefficiencies, and more. Hippocratic Solutions' experts can even provide recommendations if clients require new vendors or IT support.

"Employing Hippocratic Solutions has been the best practice management decision that I have made in many years," says Dr. Martin Alongi, Beverly Hills Podiatry. "Peter and his staff are courteous, efficient, and extremely knowledgeable of podiatric-specific coding and billing. They have also been very helpful in the conversion to ICD-10 and electronic records. This association could not have come at a better time for my practice."

Also, the company recently expanded their already impressive selection of offerings with Concierge Wound Care Solutions. This new program allows podiatrists to get away from the traditional method of obtaining wound care kits for their patients, which requires a significant amount of time and effort for almost no return. Instead, Hippocratic Solutions' greatest strength is the fact that the company offers billing services specifically for those in the podiatry field.

the best service possible to clients. It's how Hippocratic Solutions has become the preferred partner for outsourced podiatry billing, and why DPMs across the country regularly reach out for the team's assistance.

"Since contracting with their medical billing service, our receipts have increased significantly, and our patient statements go out promptly after the office visit. Accuracy of initial insurance claims is superb, and the quality of work in general is outstanding... I would recommend Hippocratic Solutions to any physician looking for exceptional service and hoping to avoid the headaches and confusion of medical billing," says Jerod Darnell, DPM.

What is perhaps Hippocratic Solutions' greatest strength is the fact that the company offers billing services specifically for those in the podiatry field. Peter Koukounas and his team have worked with countless DPMs over the years, giving them unique insight into the issues that podiatrists face. This specialization has allowed them to assist podiatry professionals in increasing revenue, cutting unnecessary costs, and improving operations. While DPMs are focusing on patient care and practice growth, the Hippocratic Solutions team is working tirelessly in the background to handle every facet of claims processing. Further, the web-based billing technology provided by Hippocratic Solutions makes it easy for podiatrists to get a comprehensive review of their financial affairs at any time.

However, Hippocratic Solutions knows that it takes more than just improved billing procedures for a podia-

Podiatrists across the country can count on Hippocratic Solutions to find a solution for all billing, wound care and practice management needs

Hippocratic Solutions has made it so that podiatrists can use their DME licenses to dispense and bill for high-quality wound care supplies electronically. In addition to ensuring that supplies are shipped directly to patients for at-home care, this program provides podiatrists with an extra source of revenue while removing the hassle of prescription management.

Podiatrists across the country can count on Hippocratic Solutions to find a solution for all billing, wound care, and practice management needs—a solution that will cut costs and increase revenue.

To learn more about Hippocratic Solutions, call (866) 305-3911, email info@hippocraticolutions.com, visit www.hippocraticolutions.com, or click here. Our staff is available to answer any questions.